PLASTICS TRAINING AND INDUSTRY EDUCATION

Every industry benefits from its Associations and the efforts of the members. In the Engineered Plastics Industry the International Association of Plastics Distributors (IAPD) fills this role: companies that manufacture, distribute and promote awareness of Engineered Plastics. The IAPD has worked diligently to offer training and educational materials for its members and the plastics industry at large.

Technicor has been a member of IAPD for many years and has benefited from their training materials. As our customers, you also benefit from better information, training, and resources. A number of us at Technicor have completed the Level 1 Certificate Program.
